40 Thousand + years of Aboriginal abalone harvesting and still going
Living sites, are made up of many tonnes of netepa and werriner (abalone and periwinkles)
Tasmanian Aboriginal women were the divers.
Tuylini, stringy bark canoe and woven reed catch bag.
March 2022, 3 year lease agreement is signed
Access to traditional species for trade.
Showcasing Indigenous held netepa to local chefs.
Sharing culture.
Sharing knowledge.
Acknowledgements for photos

• Tasmanian Seafood Industry Council
• NITA Education
• Mooncheese studio
• The Orb
• Remi Chauvin